

"CHILD" ALMOST A SIX-FOOTER

Manuel Lee Arrested by Parents for Disobedience and Sent to Jail.

Manuel Lee, who is described as a "child" in a warrant sworn to by his father, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of disobedience to his parents. When Manuel was brought to the police station he was rather a large "child," standing about five feet nine inches in his shoes and he wore a black moustache. He is an employee of a company from which he draws man's wages. As a "child" he was a sturdy specimen of infancy and his appearance caused smiles to linger over the countenances of the police officers and the High Sheriff.

Lee was arrested under section 1418 of the Penal Laws which says in part that "it shall be the duty of all children of lawful age, to obey the wishes of their parents, respecting first those of the father and then of the mother, until they reach the age of legal majority." The section refers often to "child."

Little Manuel will appear before Judge Wilcox this morning and it may be possible he will be sent home to go to bed without his supper or else the parents will be commanded to give him a spanking.

JOHN M. THURSTON'S PUBLIC CAREER

John M. Thurston is one of the men whose speeches on any public question are sure of an audience. His career has been typically that of a self-made American. Born in New England, brought up on a western farm, working his way through college and to success in the law, he was general solicitor to the Union Pacific Railway when a place in the Senate was offered him, and he accepted it, although he had been earning several times a Senator's salary.

The voice of the orator has been supplanted, as the chief means of moving public opinion, by the printed message of the press; yet eloquence still has its powerful appeal, and many a career besides Mr. Bryan's has been made possible by a striking speech. Mr. Thurston's opportunity came when, as a delegate from Nebraska, he was appointed temporary chairman of the Republican convention of 1888; and he used it to deliver an address that won him a national reputation. That reputation he has maintained at Washington and has proved himself a careful and conscientious legislator as well as a clever speaker.

He has had the courage—none too common a quality in public life—to admit that in the changed political conditions of today he has changed some of his opinions. "I voted against the annexation of Hawaii," he said in a recent speech, "because of a conservatism which I could not overcome; therefore you will understand that I am not a mere partisan, but when, in the providence of God, new territory and new responsibilities come to us, we are bound to share the responsibility. I am one of those who would have wished that after Dewey sailed into Manila bay and gained the grandest victory of modern times he could have left without accepting the responsibility. But this could not be done. God has given us the responsibility and we must accept it. Civilization has the right of way over barbarism, and the American people are equal to this or any other responsibility that may arise." This is surely a frank and manly confession of political faith.—Munsey's.

The smoker which was to have been given by the Officers' Club tomorrow evening will be held tonight at the Club, owing to other attractions for Saturday. The smoker is given for the ping-pong players in the recent contests and the trophies won on the occasion of the reception given last week will be presented to the champions. Governor Dole and all the territorial officials have been invited to attend, and a large delegation of Elks is expected. Invitations have also been extended to Senator Burton, Hon. J. M. Thurston and parties, and to officers of the army and navy. The festivities will commence at 8 o'clock.
